Gov. Nixon Declares State of Emergency

Missouri - Gov. Jay Nixon today declared a state of emergency in Missouri as a widespread severe weather system continued to move across the state, bringing heavy rain, hail, high winds, flooding and flash flooding, and at least one reported tornado. The heavy rain associated with the severe weather has already led to several water rescues along flooded streams and rivers. Another round of severe weather is forecast for much of the state today.

“With the continued significant risk of severe storms and flooding, I urge Missourians to closely monitor weather conditions, so they can take shelter or move to higher ground if needed,” Gov. Nixon said. “The state of Missouri will continue to work closely with local officials to help protect lives and property from these storms.”

The Governor ordered activation of the State Emergency Operations Center, which has been closely monitoring the storm system. Gov. Nixon has been receiving updates from his emergency management team to assess the current weather situation and address local needs. The team includes senior officials from the Missouri Department of Public Safety, the State Emergency Management Agency, the Missouri National Guard and the Missouri State Highway Patrol.

Gov. Nixon has also activated the Missouri State Emergency Operations Plan, which allows state agencies to coordinate directly with local jurisdictions to provide emergency services.

National One Cent Day!

APRIL 01ST 2014 BY DEE LOFLIN

United States - National One Cent Day is celebrated each year on April 1. This day is all about the one cent piece (the penny).

The Lincoln cent is the current one cent coin of the U.S. dollar. Adopted in 1909, it replaced the Indian Head cent. From 1959 to 2008, the reverse side featured the Lincoln Memorial. Four different reverse designs in 2009 honored Lincoln's 200th birthday and a new, permanent reverse – the Union Shield – was introduced in 2010.

The U.S. Mint's official name for a penny is "cent" and the official name by the U.S. Treasury is "one cent piece". In American English, pennies is the plural form, other plural forms pence and pee (standard use in British English) are not used.

"As of 2012, it costs the U.S. Mint 2.00 cents to make a cent because of the cost of materials and production. This figure includes the Mint's fixed components for distribution and fabrication, estimated at $13 million in FY 2011.

It also includes Mint overhead allocated to the penny, which was $17.7 million for 2011. Fixed costs and overhead would have to be absorbed by other circulating coins without the penny.

The loss in profitability due to producing the one cent coin in the United States for the year of 2012 was $58,000,000. This was a slight decrease from 2011, the year before, which had a production loss of $60,200,000." (Wikipedia)

On National One Cent Day, you can research the history of the penny and also learn about saving your cents. Each cent saved accumulates over time.

Happy April Fool's Day!!!

Happy April Fool's Day!!!

United States - Did you call the office this morning saying you were going to be an hour late for work because your car would not start and then walk in a minute later and say "April Fools!" or did you put a rubber band around the faucet so the next person to turn it on gets sprayed all over??

April Fools' Day is celebrated on April 1st of each year. Sometimes referred to as 'All Fools' Day, it is not a national holiday. April Fools Day is widely recognized and celebrated, by many, as a day when people play practical jokes and hoaxes on each other.

Here is a little April Fools History: (There are different theories as to the beginning of April Fools Day.)

"The earliest recorded association between April 1 and foolishness can be found in Chaucer's Canterbury Tales (1392).

In the 1392 writings by Chaucer, Canterbury Tales, the "Nun's Priest's Tale" is set March thirty days and two. Modern scholars believe that there was a copying error in the manuscripts and that Chaucer actually meant 32 days after April, i.e. May 2. (the anniversary of the engagement of King Richard II of England to Anne of Bohemia). The readers misunderstood it to mean March 32, i.e. April 1. In Chaucer's tale, the vain cock Chauntecleer is tricked by a fox.

Many writers suggest that the restoration, in 1582, of January 1 by Pope Gregory XIII as New Year's Day of the Gregorian Calendar in the 16th century was responsible for the birth of the holiday. With New Year's Day moved to January 1, not all people were aware of this news, or refused to accept it, and celebrated the new year on April 1st, as in the past. These people were then labeled "fools" and were subject to ridicule and practical jokes.

1508 – French poet, Eloy d'Amerval referred to a poisson d'avril (April fool, literally April fish) a possible reference to the April Fool holiday.

1539 – Flemish poet Eduard de Dene wrote of a nobleman who sent his servants on foolish errands on April 1.

1686 – John Aubrey referred to April Fools Day as Fools holy day, the first British reference.

1686 – On April 1, several people were tricked into going to the Tower of London to "see the Lions washed"

Help Bash Trash in MO! Peanut Needs Our Help!!

Help Bash Trash in MO! Peanut Needs Our Help!!

Missouri - No MOre Trash! mascot, Peanut the Turtle, is a living example of how litter can affect wildlife. When young, the red-eared slider crawled into a plastic six-pack ring that someone had thrown on the ground instead of a trashcan. The ring got hung on her shell. Eventually, her shell grew but the ring stayed on, giving her the shape of a peanut. She was found and taken to the St. Louis Zoo where the ring was cut off. She has lived with the Missouri Department of Conservation since 1993.

The Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) and Missouri Department of Transportation (MoDOT) encourage Missourians to do some spring cleaning outdoors and help fight litter through the state's No MOre Trash! annual Trash Bash throughout the month of April.

The Trash Bash is sponsored by MDC and MoDOT as part of the ongoing No MOre Trash! statewide anti-litter campaign. Volunteers are needed all around the state to clean up litter from roadsides, parks, neighborhoods, rivers, streams, trails, and other places.

Participants are encouraged to report cleanup efforts and will receive a No MOre Trash! thank-you pin specially designed to commemorate the 30th birthday of campaign mascot Peanut the Turtle. When young, the red-eared slider crawled into a plastic six-pack ring that someone had thrown on the ground instead of a trashcan. The ring got hung on her shell. Eventually, her shell grew but the ring stayed on, giving her the shape of a peanut.

For more info on the April Trash Bash and how to participate, visit nomoretrash.org/trash-bash, or call 1-888-ASK-MODOT (1-888-275-6636).
