Advisory class is part of our school day and rules/policies are the same as with any other period during the school day; (i.e.- cell phone, attendance, tardies, and signing in/out) Not reporting to advisory without signing out in the office will result in an ASD.

Students must have a minimum of 90% attendance and be passing all courses for the current grading term (Quarter) in order to miss class for an extracurricular activity. Students may check grades online through the student portal on SIS. If the student's grades or attendance changes to meet the requirements they may request a review in the office. Changes to the ineligible list will not be made the day prior to or the day of the event.

According to the policy found in the Family/Student Handbook regarding use of cell phones

Cell phones may only be in use during lunch periods in the cafeteria and lobby areas

Phones may not be in use in any academic area - Faculty/staff should NOT see students in hallways with phones - phones should not be on desks or visible during any class

Students may have in possession during instructional day but they must be turned OFF

Students should not JAM lockers due to security issues for student and school. Students who JAM their lockers so they do not require a combination may be assigned ASD.

The FBLA Macaroni & Cheese contest for students starts today. We have some early entries and Mrs Guys advisory class is leading with 30 boxes; Mrs Christian and Sepulvado are tied for 2nd with 24. Give donations to your advisory teacher. FBLA members need to check email to sign up and help with this project after school.

FCCLA is conducting a silent auction in the DHS library. The auction will run from Nov. 1 through Nov. 15. It will end after third period on the 15th. Bidding increments must increase a minimum of $.25 each bid. 100% of the proceeds will be donated. We will notify the winning bids that Friday and expect payment before Thanksgiving break.

Governor Signs Legislation at Poplar Bluff High School

NOVEMBER 07TH 2018 BY DEE LOFLIN

Governor Signs Legislation at Poplar Bluff High School

Poplar Bluff, Missouri - Missouri Gov. Mike Parson signed the STEM Education and Computer Science Bill into law during a school-wide assembly held for the occasion on Tuesday, Oct. 30, at Poplar Bluff High School.

Passed during a special legislative session in September, House Bill 3 will allow districts to count computer science courses as high school graduation credit instead of just an elective; create a related certification program for teachers; establish a fund for financial support; and develop a STEM career awareness program online for younger students by the 2019/20 school year, according to lawmakers.

“Improving our workforce is a top priority with this administration, and in order to help move Missouri forward, we need to expand opportunities for our students,” Parson said in an issued statement. “Missouri currently has a high demand in this field, and by signing this bill, our students will be able to get the proper training to succeed in computing jobs.”

The 57th governor told the student body that Missouri is “short 10,000 jobs in this arena.” Parson was accompanied by state Sen. Doug Libla of Poplar Bluff, who served as handler of HB 3. Libla previously promoted the bill during a student assembly hosted at the Junior High in February, when he noted that the coursework would have a coding and programming emphasis.

“Computer science being offered in our schools is so important in preparing our students for the Missouri companies that desire and depend on these skills,” Libla stated this week. “Thousands of high-paying jobs are available right now all across Missouri.”

R-I Superintendent Dr. Scott Dill introduced the distinguished guests, who also included Rep. Steve Cookson of Poplar Bluff and PBHS alumnus Phil Bounds, a retired NASA employee. In the Poplar Bluff School District, the first dedicated STEM class—with an interdisciplinary focus on science, technology, engineering and math—began being offered as an enrichment in 2016 at the Middle School.

“We owe it to our students to provide opportunities to explore and learn about this burgeoning field through the application of an online delivery system,” Dill said. “By promoting unfettered access to this vital curriculum, we ensure that all students have the tools requisite to their future personal success as well as safeguarding the economic stability of our community, the region and the state.”
